

Management of Invasive Species in California

Thursday, December 1, 2005
Clunie Community Center
McKinley Park, Sacramento

Agenda

8:00 – 8:30 Registration

8:30 – 9:30 Routine Council Business

Executive Committee Report
Council Announcements

9:30 – 11:30 Current Conditions and Future Trends for Invasive Species

Impacts from Invasive Species to California's environment, agriculture and economy

Edie Allen, Professor and Natural Resources Extension Specialist,
Department of Botany and Plant Sciences and Center for Conservation
Biology, University of California, Riverside

Karen Klonsky, Specialist in Cooperative Extension, Dept. of Agricultural and Resource Economics, University of California, Davis

Break

Pathways for Introduction and Early Detection/Prevention

Invasive Plants – Scott Oneto, Natural Resources Program
Representative, University of California Cooperative Extension

Aquatic Species – Ted Grosholz, University of California Cooperative Extension, UC Davis

Exotic Shrub/Tree Insects and Pathogens – Mark Stanley, Chair,
California Oak Mortality Task Force

11:30 – 12:30 Lunch

12:30 – 2:00 Examples of Ongoing Agency Cooperation in Invasive Species Management

State and National Interagency Teams – Nelroy Jackson, Vegetation Management Consultant, California Invasive Weed Awareness Coalition

The State Noxious and Invasive Weed Plan – Larry Bezark, Integrated Pest Control Branch, Division of Plant Health and pest Prevention Services, California Department of Food and Agriculture

Local Implementation Programs – Wendy West, Natural Resource Program Representative, University of California Cooperative Extension

2:00 – 2:15 Break

2:15 – 2:45 Opportunities for New Cooperation in Managing Invasive Species

The Resources Agency is now working on the development of an action strategy for the meeting. Details should be available very soon.